

Traditional Caskets and Urns

Our traditional range encompasses our particleboard/MDF and wooden veneered options. New Zealand MDF is made from renewable, sustainable local forests (predominantly pine). Our caskets are available with flat lid or raised lid options and most have matching urns.

All Paterson's caskets are made by local tradespeople.

Speak to your Funeral Director about which option works best for you.

Willow

A fast growing, eco-friendly and sustainable material, which benefits from regular cropping.

Willow absorbs, and locks in, carbon dioxide during growth. When buried the CO₂ remains locked in. If cremated, only the same quantity is released back into the environment - making it 'Carbon-Neutral.' Willow grows without the need for fertilisers, and actually builds fertility in poor or depleted soil.

The delicate Art of Cloisonné

Cloisonné is a centuries old enamelling technique, which consists of soldering delicate silver wire onto a metal surface. Once a design is created, the resulting cellular spaces, called cloisons (French: “partitions” or “compartments”) are filled with enamel paste. Multiple options to suit your needs, available in two designs Etienne Autumn Leaves and Etienne Butterfly.
